REQUIRED DOCUMENTS
1. Evidence of the time of substantial destruction; and
2. Evidence of continuous occupancy, such as utility bills, within 1 year of the destruction.
CONDITIONS OF APPROVAL
A nonconforming dwelling in a commercial or industrial zoning district that is involuntarily destroyed or demolished may be reconstructed, if all of the following circumstances apply:
1. A valid building permit to reconstruct the dwelling is obtained within 1 year of the time it was substantially destroyed, and a certificate of occupancy is obtained for the dwelling within 1 year after issuance of the building permit.
2. The dwelling to be reconstructed was lawfully and continuously occupied within 1 year of the time it was substantially destroyed. For the purposes of this section, "continuously occupied" means that the dwelling was occupied for at least 9 of the 12 months that preceded its substantial destruction. Prior to issuance of a building permit to reconstruct the dwelling unit, the owner of the property on which it is located shall provide evidence of the time of substantial destruction and evidence of continuous occupancy, such as utility bills, within 1 year of that destruction.
3. Reconstruction of the dwelling does not result in expansion or relocation of the structure, or the number of dwelling units within it.
4. Off-Street parking is provided for the dwelling in accordance with City standards in effect at the time of reconstruction.
